

Lament to a Leader

Like a library without a book
 Like Congress without a crook
 Like an athlete without a ball
 Like Bogey without Bacall
 Like a bride without a groom
 Like a custodian without a broom
 Like a tourist without a condo
 Like a rusty car without Bondo
 Like a toilet without a flush
 Like Conservative's without Rush
 Like a toothbrush without toothpaste
 Like New Jersey without toxic waste
 Like a sailor without the navy
 Like a biscuit without the gravy
 Like a poet without a rhyme
 Like Jacksonville without a crime
 Like Huddle House without a griddle
 Like Bluegrass music without a fiddle
 Like Tiger without a putt
 Like HBO without smut
 Like a burger without an onion
 Like a podiatrist without a bunion
 Like Ralph Nader without consumers
 Like Victoria's Secret without bloomers
 Like a fisherman without a lake
 Like maintenance without a break
 Like a tire without a rim
 Will we be without Tim

Goodbye Tim

Harold Vayler
